In the face of unspeakable horror, these children use their determination & creativity to build lives filled with hope & beauty -- playing, studying, making art, & writing an underground newspaper -- all at the peril of being executed. Their actual poems & stories are woven into a fast-paced drama, evoking the universality of children caught in the insanity of war.
TBD	Fine Arts Showcase	Two-night district wide celebration of fine arts.
April 27th -29th May 4th -6th		We all know William Shakespeare as a brilliant, imaginative, funny, trendsetting playwright whose work has held up the test of time better than any other. We know he lived in the 16th century and that he performed plays for the Queen, but how did Shakespeare become the Shakespeare we know today? In this exciting play by Lee Hall, adapted from the screenplay by Marc Norman and Tom Stoppard, we get to witness a version of what might have been. Lee Hall's version of this successful screenplay follows the same story of Shakespeare meeting and falling in love with an aristocratic woman named Viola De Lesseps who wishes she could be an actor, and transforms for the stage, just as Shakespeare did with stories in his day. Funny, clever, filled with references to Shakespeare's work. A delight for theater goers of all ages.
